

Cowboy Opry

Friday March 2, 2018 7:00 pm

Adults $10
Children Free (18 and under-up to 5 children with paying adult)

Grand Ole' Opry like concert with Sam DeLeeuw, Ernie Sites, Clive Romney, Ed Peekeekoot, Kristen Lloyd, Thatch Elmer & Colt Blankman.

Sam DeLeeuw is a very talented lady, and knows what she's talking about!! Her ranching background and day to day life gives her all the ideas for her humorous, or tear evoking original poetry. Her numerous awards include WMA four time "Female Poet of the Year", Academy of Western Artists Humorist of the Year and this past fall the WMA Cowboy Poetry Book of the Year. Raised in Black Foot, Idaho, Sam DeLeeuw now makes her home just outside of Ogden, Utah, and remains in-demand as a poet, humorist, emcee, and lively entertainer.

Cowboy Ernie Sites combines traditional & original western singing/songwriting, yodeling, cowboy poetry, storytelling, & trick roping demonstrations with his own personal brand of western humor & wit to entertain audiences of all ages.

Clive Romney is the Executive Director of the Utah Pioneer Heritage Arts. He is an accomplished professor/teacher songwriter, producer, composer of over 500 works, including "Scripture Power", talented musician on almost every instrument, passionate storyteller/portrayer of pioneer experiences, and wonderful historian. He is a devoted husband, father and grandfather and has received several Pearl awards.

Ed Peekeekoot is a highly skilled finger-style guitar player with a great ability to entertain audiences. He can play just about anything with strings! Although he lives on Vancouver Island, Ed maintains strong connections with the Ahtahkakoop Cree First Nation in Saskatchewan where he was born & raised

Kristen Lloyd 's strongest ability lies in her music. She has been playing guitar and singing professionally for thirteen years. She loves to teach music, is also a master at trick roping, gun spinning and whip cracking. She is a professional western artist and a train robber on the Heber Creeper! She is currently a Commercial music student at Brigham Young University.

Thatch Elmer is a 13 year old Cowboy Poet residing in Harrisville Utah. Thatch has been reciting Cowboy Poetry since he was old enough to speak a complete sentence. Thatch enjoys writing and reciting originals along with reciting the classics and has performed at many gatherings throughout the West, sharing the stage with numerous talented Cowboy Poets and Musicians

Colt Blankman is an 11 year old Cowboy Poet from Avon, Utah. He performed his first poem at the CVCR Kid's Poetry Contest when he was 8. The next year he won with an original poem and was hooked. 2016 and 2017 had him performing at schools, community events, 4H, poetry gatherings in Utah and Idaho, and even for the National Agricultural County Agents Convention. He loves classic cowboy and patriotic poems and writing his own. Colt just released his first CD following a year of amazing opportunities.